Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Slander factories run full time during an election campaign. Latest example is the story of Mr. Pottle's pigs that had such a vogue among Republican newspapers a short time since. Mr. Pottle was the garbage man for the Passamaquoddy model village set up by the Democratic administration for the mechanics who were harnessing the moon and tides at the bay of that name in Maine. When Congress refused to appropriate any more millions for that bird-witted project, the village was depopulated, and only a handful of watchmen remained. The story had it that a food contractor had been ordered to leave 800 loaves of bread and 500 pies daily at the village. After the exodus only 6 pies and 8 loaves were consumed by the watchmen left there. But someone forgot to tell the contractor to stop his deliveries. Result was that Pottle's pigs were fed the surplus loaves and pies. This was later proved a comic canard.

But right here at home we have slander factories, vicious but not especially funny except to those with an over-developed sense of humor. One that has gone the rounds is that a public utility company of vast powers and unlimited treasury is backing Dick Bigelow's fight for the state senate. The sums mentioned as being spent to defray his campaign expenses amount to about four times what his salary would amount to in four years. A telegram is being passed around, signed as it happens with the initials of a prominent insurance man of San Francisco, very cleverly worded, not stating outright that this important money had actually been paid to Mr. Bigelow, but clearly implying that Mr. Bigelow was becoming "unco rich" as a result of his campaign.

In order to keep the record straight this writer frankly called this matter to the attention of Senator Seawell. The senator acknowledged that he had shown such a purported telegram to a few of his friends, but justified it on the ground that from the Bigelow camp had originated a yarn to the effect that another great utility had taken out a policy with him (Seawell) for $500,000 in some kind of insurance, and that this corporation was working tooth and toenail for the election of Seawell. It just happens that the corporation involved is big enough to, and does carry its own insurance.

Both these candidates deny originating these slanders, and Mr. Bigelow to the writer's personal knowledge has done his best to keep his following from starting stories of this slanderous character. In the case of Senator Seawell, we think he would have been well advised to have refrained from showing the spurious telegrams or countenancing them in any way. Aside from any ethical reasons, there are very practical considerations why a straightforward, honest campaign is the best campaign. Outright lies like the two mentioned, cut both ways. Intelligent people recognize instantly that they are campaign slanders and will incline to vote for the man against whom they are circulated. Their vote is worth just as much at the polls as those of morons who believe the yarns, and, by and large, there are more intelligent people in the world than there are morons.

We have always deplored the Circe who presides over our elections and by some legerdemain, converts citizens, honest it may be in all other relations of life into inferior creatures who do not only believe, but aid in circulating, poisonous stories about their fellows.

Sometimes we have thought that the salaries offered our public servants are not sufficient to attract men of character and ability to public service But it is often apparent that too frequently the pay is too high for the kind of men who are elected. As a matter of fact the man who would make a capable public officer, is rarely the man who can make a successful campaign for office. This seems to be one of the inherent difficulties of our democracy. Whatever power or influence the press possesses in influencing voters, it goes without saying, should be cast in the scales for good government, which includes measures and men.

We sincerely believe therefore, that newspaper editors who straddle every issue, who sit on the fence when a choice is offered, who ignore their responsibility to their readers and their public and refuse to shed what light they are able upon candidacies and issues, are derelict in their duty. In accord with this conception of its duty the Nevada City Nugget recommends that its readers vote next Tuesday for Congressman Harry L. Englebright.

R. L. P. Bigelow for the State Senate.

Jesse Mayo for the State Assembly.

Supervisor Cary S. Arbogast.

Annual Water Pageant At Park Pool Tonight

The annual water pageant tonight for the benefit of Pioneers park and municipal swimming pool will be featured by an exhibition of fancy diving by Earl Johnson, junior diving champion of Northern California. Johnson has had a meteoric rise to fame because of the remarkable feats he performs on the high springboard. He does a dozen different dives of a spectacular character.

The program consists first of a balloon race, one for girls and a second for boys. This will be followed by a candle race in which Ainsley Fouyer, P. Souden, R. Deschwander, H. Roberts and N. Ronningen will compete.

Clowns will be Barrett, Tobiassen, Masterson, Browning and Thomas. These will do all sorts of comic diving and water stunts.

The life saving demonstration will be made by Ray Wilde, W. King, M. Donnelan, P. Joyal, T. Perez, J. Englebright.

Earl Johnson will then put on a series of exhibition dives. This will be followed by the Monte Cristo bag trick in which a boy is sewed up in a sack, tossed into the pool and miraculously escapes. C. Thomas does this stunt.

Fire dives will be made by Tobiassen, King, Hallett and Barrett. This is one of the most spectacular features of the program. Then there will be a handcuff dive with Sheriff Tobiassen shackling the writsts and ankles of the diver.

The last event will be a firefly drill in which P. King, V. Flindt' R. Smith, D. Thomas, H. Thomas, B. Smith, L. Biggs, B. Joyal and B. Williams will participate.

All seats will be placed between the end of the pool and fence along Nimrod street. Verle Gray, manager of the pageant and life guard at the pool stated yesterday that more than half the seats have already been sold.

COLE INTERESTS MAY TAKE OVER MOUNTAINEER

Arthur B. Foote of Grass Valley, has secured options on a group of ten properties immediately to the west and south of the city limits of Nevada City.

The property comprises 497 acres is 2½ miles long and covers the outcrops of 20,000 feet of known veins, all of which have produced ore in the past.

The property includes: The Mountaineer, worked to a depth of 1200 feet on the vein and which paid $650,000 in dividends. The New England-Mohegan, worked to a depth of 1000 feet with a record for the production of high grade ore. The Orleans vein, which produced good ore from the Fortuna shaft, 400 feet deep, and is now producing from the Gracie-Glencoe, which adjoins the property on the east end.

The options either have been or will be assigned to a syndicate for the purpose of financing the project. Thomas F. Cole, 1230 South Oakland Ave., Pasadena, Calif., is president of the syndicate.

EMIL OTT SUGGESTS MORE LIFT FOR COURT HOUSE ELEVATORS

Emil Ott has originated a plan to make the court house more accessible to tax payers and others who have business to transact there. He advocates the purchase of the Daniels building by the county, to be used as the down town entrance to the court house.

"The Daniels building" Mr. Ott states, "runs back into the hill on the ground floor for 75 or 100 feet. From the back end of the Daniels building it would be comparativel easy to run a tunnel under the court house to a point beneath the proposed elevator well and to drop the shaft to the well down to connect with the tunnel. In this manner a person visiting the court house would enter what is now the Daniels building, traverse the tunnel for perhaps a hundred feet, push a button and entering the elevator be lifted to whatever floor he desired in the court house."

FLAMES DESTROY M. E. CHURCH IN GRASS VALLEY

One of the most spectacular fires in Nevada county' history occurred Wednesday afternoon after four o'clock when the Methodist church, built in 1872, and parsonage beside it, were burned to the ground on Church street in Grass Valley. So great was the heat that paint on houses across the street was blistered and firemen, waging a desperate battle were unable to get close enough to make their streams of water effective during the latter part of the conflagration. The Sierra apartments next door to the parsonage was badly scorched but was saved through the heroic efforts of the fire fighters who, as the fire subsided, mounted the roof and played streams of water on its sides.

The flames mounting upward from the church steeple were an awesome sight. The steeple itself, when it finally did fall, dropped back into the inferno of the main building below, instead of at one side or across the street as had been feared.

The Nevada City fire department sent its truck and crew of volunteer firemen to the scene, as did State Fire Warden William Sharp. These supplemented the efforts of the hard driven Grass Valley firemen in the latter part of the battle.

The damage is estimated at $35,000. Of this amount the church insurance policy had covered but $15,300. The fire is attributed to burning in the furnace a large amount of rubbish. A leaky flue apparently let the flames into the church attic and the steele acted as a chimney for the flames which burst out in the steeple and the front of the church before they appeared in the roof of the main building. Probably two thousand people gathered in the streets to witness the fire.

SNEATH AND CLAY PROPERTY

The surface equipment has been reconditioned, shaft unwatered, and cleaned out at the Sneath and Clay mine. It is reported good ore was encountered after sinking the shaft an additional 100 feet. Mr. C. C. Van Loben Sels is reopening the property which closed temporarily a few days ago and is expected to reopen very shortly.

Mining and storing good ore is underway at the Sneath and Clay mine, with a crew of five men, this week.

THRONG WILL ATTEND BANQUET TO ENGLEBRIGHT

Plans are shaping up rapidly for the Englebright appreciation dinner next Saturday evening at the Bret Harte Inn in Grass Valley. The Hydraulic Association meeting will be held at 2:30 and the banquet will be served at 6:30 at the Inn, with Mr. W. G. Allen, prominent mining man of Smartville, and chairman of the meeting as toastmaster. Allen stated former President Herbert Hoover has been invited to attend the meeting but no message has been received so far. Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan has accepted an invitation to attend and will give a brief talk.

The outlook for a capacity attendance and a particularly fine snappy program are first class. Reservations are being made in Nevada City and Grass Valley and present appearances are that dinning tables in the big garden of the Bret Harte Inn will be well filled. It is expected that Congressman Englebright will have some interesting news to bring to the meeting in regard to debris dams on the several rivers of the district. The dinner affair is nonpolitical and is open to the public, but the closing date for the dinner is Friday morning.

MISS ELAINE MOBLEY ON JUNIOR COLLEGE STAFF

Dr. John Napier, principal of the Placer Junior College, G. V. Crabbe, Auburn correspondent of the Sacramento Bee were visitors in the Nugget office yesterday. Dr. Napier stated that 41 pupils have already been enrolled in the junior college. Miss Elaine Mobley, daughter of Judge Walter Mobley of this city has been appointed to the junior college faculty to teach hygiene. Dr, Napier stated that she had made a notable record in improving health conditions in Placer county as the result of work in the Placer Union High School at Auburn.

CONTRACTOR IS MODERNIZING THE COURT HOUSE

The contracting firm of Lindgren and Swinnerton of Sacramento started excavating to the east and south of the Nevada County Court House Monday and the velvety lawn was reduced to a four foot cavity by evening. The granite portals have been removed at the front entrance and the dredger is loading trucks as rapidly as they drive up, with earth and rock. Wheel barrows are also being used to carry earth from the foundations. A partition was placed within the east wall to keep out dust while earth is being removed inside as deep as the foundation wall on the outside. When completed steel beams and columns will be placed to support the huge three story brick and granite structure.

Mr. Paul Young, representing the firm, is in charge and sublet a lot of the work to contractors. Many local men are employed. The company has 167 working days to complete the new addition. The whole east and south of the building is a busy scene as about 50 men rush here and there accomplishing everything with speed and accuracy. It is thought the new addition will be completed many days before the time limit is up.

SCOUTS AND FRIENDS ENJOY SOCIAL TIME

Verne Gleason, scoutmaster invited parents and friends to a scout get-to-gether at Seaman Hall in Pioneer park last night. Judge Geo. L. Jones gave a most interesting talk for the scouts, and the scouts gave a program of musical numbers and stunts. The affair was a great success and it is felt that such get-to-gethers are fine things for the scouts and the community.

Mining Employment At New Peak In County

A survey of mining activity covering the past month reveals the fact that employment has touched a new peak, more men being employed now than during any time in recent years. There are now 2623 at work in the gold mines which mean a payroll of aoprpximately $366,220 monthly for this county.

A feature of the developments over the past month has been entrance into this field of five new companies. This of course is a good augury for the future. It is also reported that there is a more insistent inquiry for good properties that can be had under lease and option.

Some of the larger properties which are reported to have increased their working forces are the Lava Cap and the Zeibright. The Nevada, the Oro Fino and the Live Yankee are added to the list of operating properties this month.

The following reports have been received from various mines:

DEER CREEK UNION MINE

Captain George A. Nihell has several men employed in development work at his property, the Deer Creek Union. The men have started to drive a drift at the bottom of the 100 foot winze. There is some talk of a mill for the property in the near future.

LAVA CAP MINE

Superintendent O. E. Schiffner stated this week that he has 250 men employed at the Lava Cap mine and the mill is being taxed to capacity with 300 tons and a little better of ore per day. In the Central shaft ore is being mined on the 400 foot, 500 foot, 600 foot, 700 foot, 800 foot and 900 foot levels, while at the Banner ore is coming from the 600 foot, 700 foot and 800 foot levels.

NEVADA MINE

The new company which has taken over the Nevada mine property near the North Banner property on Banner mountain, has several men engaged in drifting in the old tunnel which was cleared out recently. Drilling machines are making good headway in advancing the tunnel.

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

A large gallows frame has just been completed over the 100 foot shaft at the Zeibright mine beside the mill located half way up the mountainside. The ore is hoisted directly into the bins and into the crusher from the haulage tunnel. The 500 ton mill is operating at capacity. Mr. John Barker is superintendent.

GRACEY MINE

Sinking started at the Gracey mine southeast of Nevada City, Tuesday morning and another shift was added placing the property on a two shift basis. It is understood the crew will be raised to 30 men by September first. The mill started treating ore Sunday, the bins being full and a large amount of ore being stored in readiness for the mill.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT GOVERNOR?

(By Judge Acton M. Cleveland)

An incident has just passed which has been very regretable wherein the Chief Executive of the State of California has been criticized for not rendering the proper assistance to injured persons on the Yuba Pass Highway. Regardless of the situation which involves the Governor, had the Yuba Pass Highway been a decent road, one fit to travel, this accident never would have taken place.

Since its completion the Yuba Pass Highway from Nevada City to Downieville has been adjudged one of the worst pieces of highway in the state. "The road of a thousand curves, the sea-sick highway and many similar phrases characterize this road.

For the past several years the citizens of this section have made plea after plea to the Highway Commission for an appropriation to improve this piece of road, and with the exception of the improvement of a portion between Indian Valley and Goodyears Bar nothing has ever been done, and in consequence thereof, humanity must suffer by being mangled by accident and mishaps, and property continues to be destroyed.

Several road meetings have been held in which fine promises were made by those in authority, but nothing came of it. Little over a year ago the citizens of the mountains met at a spirited meeting at Grass Valley at which time Earl Lee Kelly promised definitely an appropriation of $80,000 to take some of the turns out of this bad road, but the realization of this promise never came. Instead this $80,000 was used to build a new bridge at Downieville and for other uses.

A short time ago, this summer, a road delegation composed of officials of the Division of Highways and prominent citizens of the neighboring country made a trip over the road, and more assertions were made that the road would be straightened out. Whether this is of a nature of sincerity or a political jesture, it is hard to say. People who live in these mountains and have to travel this dangerous road notice that every time a road delegation drives over the road or any person of prominence, they are usually led by a uniformed escort from the California Highway Patrol. In fact members of the last delegation would not come on the trip until they were assured that they would have a highway patrol escort. When they come into the country, they have a traffic officer to protect their life and property, but when the local people use the the road, they do so at their own risk, and a part of the road from the North Middle Yuba river to Nevada City, they are not afforded the protection of a highway patrolman for that section of the Yuba Pass Highway is never patrolled by the California Highway Patrol.

Had only a part of the many promises which have been made been kept and the road improved as it should be, this regrettable accident and incident which took place Saturday would not have occurred. As it now stands every time one goes out on this crooked highway they take their life in their own hands, and almost every day between Downieville and Nevada City someone has an accident, some serious, some slight, and not much is heard about it, nor would much have been heard of the accident heretofore referred to had it not involved the Governor of California.

The Governor saw this accident, that is he saw the results of it, he saw a man, a citizen, a taxpayer, whose car had gone over the grade, landing 200 feet below demolished, and there a suffering piece of humanity by the side of the road, trying to get held which he had difficulty in doing, while at the base of the precipitious hillside lay his companion likewise shattered, maybe dead or with the car on top of him for all he knew. What caused this? Nothing except a bad road, a road called a piece of the highway system of the glorious state of California, a road that any other civilized section would be ashamed of. What is the Governor going to do about it? Is he going to forget it? Did not that man's face with a large gash cut in his head, and all broken up, covered with blood in a state of great agony and suffering made an impression on the Chief Executive of this state? Is he going to sit still and let this piece of highway continue to be neglected, or is he going to do what he should do and tell Earl Lee Kelly to keep his promise to these ever patient people and give them a road that they should have, one that will be safe and fit for people to travel upon. For those who still have confidence in right and justice, let this be an opportunity for the realization thereof.

To The Voters of The Seventh Senatorial Dist.

On Tuesday, the 25th of August, you will decide who is to represent you for the next four years in the State Senate.

As the incumbent candidate for re-election I have submitted my record for your consideration. It has been my privilege to have served you in both houses of the Legislature and I have at all times given my best efforts to promote the welfare of my district.

I do not believe it is necessary for me to mention my mining record as all mine operators and mine workers are familiar with my efforts in their behalf.

My opponents have talked much about roads that Mr. Bigelow has built. Since I have represented this district I have obtained over Six and One-Half Millions of dollars in road construction and improvements which I believe will overshadow anything the opposition can produce.

It has always been my policy as a Legislator to carefully watch legislation effecting our educational system, the welfare of our farmers, of labor, our independent merchants, and I have sponsored many bills which have brought great benefit to these people. My efforts have made possible the low tax rate now enjoyed in my district which speaks of my actions regarding tax matters.

My record has been approved by Labor, California Retail Hardware Association, California Retail Grocers and Merchants Association, California Master Barbers Association, Retail Druggists Association, State Mining Association, Sportsmens Associations, Old Age Pension Groups, California Teachers Association, Cattlemens Association, California Farm Bureau and many women's clubs. This should prove that my record has met with general public approval.

If I am re-elected I pledge myself to a continuation of past policies and will work at all times for my district's welfare.

I take this opportunity of thanking my many friends who have worked in my behalf and request that all voters go to the polls and exercise their American Citizenship.

Sincerely,
JERROLD L. SEAWELL,
State Senator.

ISSUES OF SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN DISCUSSED IN LETTER TO VOTERS

To the Voters of Placer,
Nevada and Sierra Counties.

Having completely covered my district, it is interesting to note that the only support my opponent is receiving from some people who believe that the entire problems of the State of California have been wrapped up in one little bundle called "good roads." I refer to a letter recently published in the Mountain Messenger of Downieville and the Nevada City Nugget of Nevada City over the signature of Mr. George F. Taylor of Downieville.

It might interest Mr. Taylor to know that Congressman Englebright advised the writer that the Yuba Pass Highway was a dead issue until he was elected to Congress and that he revived the same and obtained the necessary monies to build this road. Mr. Bigelow was Forest Supervisor during the years that this road was forgotten until revided by Congressman Englebright.

It is also interesting to note that this was not a forest service road in its entirety. The cost of the same, our Congressman advises me, was borne one-third by the Federal Bureau of Roads, one-third by the Federal Division of Forestry and one-third by the State of California. Through my actions the same was made a part of the State highway system in 1933, relieving the taxpayers of Sierra county of the enormous cost of maintaining this road under the contract which they entered into with the Federal Government at the time the road was constructed and delivered to Sierra county.

I also understand my opponent is claiming the honor of building the Tahoe-Ukiah road in Nevada county. I believe the State records will show this is not the case, and also these records will show that the writer, as a State legislator, obtained over three-quarters of a million dollars to complete this project in Nevada county. I am not in the position to know the entire amount of funds that have been expended by the United States Department of Forestry in my district, but I do know that since I have represented this district over six and one-half million dollars of State monies have been expended upon State highway construction and maintenance in my district. We have received the approval of the Governor and the State Department of Public Works for a road through the Sierra Valley to the Feather River Highway the coming biennium, and I will introduce the bill to make this possible should I be returned to the State Senate August 25.

My opponent has promised to build a road to Alleghany should he be elected State Senator. It is rather unusual to think that he could accomplish this in his first term as State Senator when he has failed to do so as Federal Forest Supervisor for a period of 28 years. The job of State Senator is not only that of looking out for roads, but he is confronted with the entire needs of a district, such as mining, agriculture, labor's welfare, stock-raising, dairying, conservation problems, social welfare, and last, but not least, the great problem of curtailing governmental costs and raising taxes to pay for these costs. The road program is one of the many issues involved in State Government and not the paramount issue over any of the others involved.

I believe my record in obtaining road funds for my district compares favorably with that of many other legislators. I have conscientiously devoted my time to the welfare of all problems involved, and this fact is borne out by the endorsements that I have received for services rendered from practically every organization affected by my legislative activity. I am not claiming anything that is not due me, but I do desire that the people of this district carefully study my record and not be misled by claims of those opposing me that I have failed to do my duty as a State legislator.

Sincerely yours,
JERROLD L. SEAWELL,
State Senator.

BRAKE SLIPS AND CAR CRASHES INTO HOUSE

The new Chrysler sedan of Supervisor C S. Arbogast was left parked for a short time in the rather steep roadway in his woodlot on Park avenue Wednesday, while he went on an errand. Before he realized it the brake slipped and the car swiftly ran, backwards, down and across the street against the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Davidson. It is claimed the house was jarred on its foundations and the car was also damaged.

Mr. Claude Stark of San Jose was a business visitor in Nevada City in the last few days. He owns the Mountaineer mines at Nevada City a part of which is the Live Yankee which he has just leased to the Nevada City Gold Mines Company.

NEVADA COUNTY AUDIT

Audit of the county books has begun by Lyman M. Straine, certified public accountant, and his assistant Willard Neilson, of Sacramento, who arrived in Nevada City Tuesday morning. They expect to complete the work early in September.

Mrs. Jack Rondoni of this city is preparing to go to Los Angeles to visit her little daughter, Gertrude Deason, who is in White's Memorial Hospital. Their many friends hope for her an early recovery from her illness.

EARTHWORM TRACTOR COMEDY AT MARYSVILLE

Everyone who reads the Saturday Evening Post has read the famous "Earthworm Tractor" stories by William Hazlett Upson, Followers of these famous short stories have come to know "Alexander Botts," Upson's whimsical chief character, the egotistical and often pitiable tractor salesman who commits astounding blunders, but who always wins out in the end.

Now, in Warner Bros.-First National's production of "'Earthworm Tractors," Joe E. Brown is starred as Alexander Botts while "Caterpallar" Diesel Tractors play the title role. The inimitable, broad-mouthed Joe makes an ideal Botts and, supported by a splendid cast of first-class screen artists, turns out a laughable comedy which is also packed full of thrills.

Botts, who often confuses names, get mixed up and when his boss, through a comic mistake, drinks hair tonic and passes out, he starts out to sell a tractor. Through a mix-up, he tackles Sam Johnson (Guy Kibee) instead of Jackson, meets Mabel Johnson (June Travis), the charming daughter of the querulous and hard-of-hearing old Johnson, a small time business man.

Botts starts his "Happy Hooligan" mistakes and laugh-provoking blunders immediately, and his efforts to sell old Johnson a tractor get him in more hot water. Bills, for his damage accidents, also pour into tractor headquarters, and Healy is fired by wire—also Botts. But Jackson, whom Botts was supposed to have sold tractors to at first, buys several machines and Botts is kept on the payroll.

Many critics have proclaimed "Earthworm Tractors" to be the laughinest, thrillingest comedy in which jovial Joe E. Brown has ever appeared and local theatre goers should be in for a grand fun festival when the show comes to town next week.

"Earthworm Tractors" will play at the National Theatre in Marysville, August 23 and 24.

DELANEY PROPERTY

Messrs. McCumber and Jack Mauri, who are developing the Delaney property west of Nevada City are continuing sinking on the vein and are greatly encouraged as the ore improves with sinking operations. The small ball mill is turning out about 15 tons of ore per day. While operations are not shaped up smoothly as yet the new leasors are pleased with results being obtained.

The James Allen home on Sacramento street near the Nevada City high school is rapidly nearing completion and is a fine addition to that part of Nevada City.

ELECTION WILL BE CLOSE, SAYS U. C. PROFESSOR

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—The opposing forces in the presidential election of 1936 are so evenly divided that it is impossible to predict the outcome. This is the belief of Dr. David S. Muzzey, visiting professor of history from Columbia University, who is teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles Summer Session.

"This year we are facing a campaign in which the very foundations of our government are being questioned and tested" said, the noted American historian with whose textbooks every college and high school student is familiar, likened the present campaign to that of 1860.

He outlined four major questions that the 1936 campaign will decide: (1) the power of the Constitution, (2) the size of the national debt, (3) the use of government funds in the form of a dole, and (4) the neccessity of a civil service system.

The Democrats resent the restraint of the Constitution and want to do something about the Supreme Court; the Republicans maintain that the Supreme Court is the only American institution left in Washington, D. C. The Republicans want the national debt reduced; the Democrats say that it could be at least twice as large as it is now without danger.

The Democrats uphold the dole; the Republicans claim that it is being used for campaign purposes, and claim that President Roosevelt has established a first class spoils system by disregarding civil service rules in the appointment of jobs.

Dr. Muzzey sees very little danger to the two parties from Lemke's Union Party. Neither is there much chance of a party split among the Democrats, he said, for although some are actively criticizing the New Deal, none will "take a walk to Topeka."

TO TEST DRAFT HORSE STRENGTH AT STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 20.—For the second time at the California State Fair a contest as keen as any ring battle or football game will be staged in Sacramento, September 5 to 14.

City folks as well as farmers will gather to watch the horse pulling contest. The event was introduced to California at the fair last year.

For the farmer the contest is a practical demonstration of the pulling capacity of draft horses. For the city people it is a new exciting sport that interprets what horse power really means.

Secretary-Manager, Chas. W. Paine, expects the event this year will draw even larger crowds who will thrill to the endurance and the spirit of several competing teams.

The horses tug against a mysterious weight—the "dynnamometer," a weighing instrument on a truck chassis which registers accurately the pulling power of each team.

Professor C. E. Howell of animal husbandry department at the University of California Farm at Davis, is in charge of the contest. There will be two weight classes. The lightweight class will be for teams weighing under 3,000 pounds, and the heavy weight class being for pairs weighing over that amount. Commenting on the contest, Howell said.

"When a team is in action each horse carries exactly the same share of the weight. The bulk of the strain comes on the hocks. The team actually push rather than pull, because the weight has been transferred to their collars. Draft horses usually are indomitable in spirit. There is something you can't see—it is heart, courage, that last fighting inch of pull."

The pulling contest proper will start at 9 a. m. on the race track in front of the grandstand September 8. The teams surviving the preliminaries will pull in the finals September 9.

FHA READY WITH LOANS FOR HOME MODERNIZATION

Whether it is the suffocating rays of Old Sol or the frigid breezes of Boreas ,the Federal Housing Administration is prepared to provide a solution of the home owner's problem, according to the Northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration.

"It matters not if the complaint is too much heat or too much cold, the Housing Administration is ready to help remedy the situation," declared D. C. McGinness, associate director. "Air-conditioning is eligible for modernization credit loans, as are heating plants, and similar equipment, which can be purchased on terms of nothing down and monthly payments extending over a reasonable period of time.

"Complete rebuilding or renovation of homes and other buildings up to a cost of $2000 is permitted under this plan. Also, it provides for the purchase and installation of the household appliances and wife-saving conveniences."

For the benefit of persons interested in building a home, it was said, the Housing Administration is insuring mortgages amounting to as much as 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property, at five per cent simple interest, for periods as long as 20 years. The approximate cost of this financing was said to be only $7.43 a month for each $100 of the loan. Payments are made in monthly installments, like rent.

MISTLETOE MINE

Mr. L. E. Roberts, understood to be interested in oil production, is developing the Mistletoe property in the Rough and Ready district. It is understood drifting is progressing at a good rate and rock will be treated at the Idaho-Maryland custom mill as soon as enough ore has been mined.

Mrs William Maguire has had as house guests the past week her sister, Mrs. Georgie Mulnix, cousin, Mrs. Ernest Parker and daughter, Mrs. Clayton Gauntt, all of Roseville; and aunt, Mrs. Thomas Griffiths, of Seattle, Washington.

Mission La Purisima Conception Founded 1787

Established on the day dedicated to the singularly Most Pure Mystery of the Empress of the Heavens, Mary Most Holy, that is to say on her Immaculate Conception, as Fr. Guardian of the Missions Fermin de Lasuen, its founder recorded, Mission La Purisima Concepcion was foredoomed to tragedy.

Eleventh of the Franciscan Missions erected on El Camino Real, bringing nearer to reality the dream of Fr. Junipero Serra for a chain of missionary stations stretching from San Diego to San Francisco, Purisima Concepcion came into existence on December 8, 1787.

Its beginning delayed by the animosity of Governor Felipe de Neve, its first church and mission buildings totally destroyed by earthquake, long years of work by its faithful padres undone by an Indian revolt and its ruin finally accomplished by political intrigue, Purisima Concepcion of beautiful name furnishes a tragic chapter in the history of the old California Missions.

In opposition to the expressed wishes of the Viceroy of Spain in Mexico, Governor Neve had succeeded in preventing the founding of Mission Santa Barbara and Purisima Concepcion for many years, but in August, 1786, Governor Pedro Fages communicated to Fr. Lasuen the welcome news that the Viceroy had ordered the establishment of a new mission on the Rio de Santa Rosa, now known as the Santa Ynez river. And so Fr. Lasuen in a happy frame of mind set up the eleventh Franciscan station, ninth on the Road of the Padres from south to north.

Building operations began in the spring of 1788 and by the end of that year ninety five baptisms had been solemnized and twenty five marriages blessed. Records of activities at the mission up to 1794 are rather sketchy, but reveal that the Fathers steadily carried on with their construction work.

In December, 1798, Fathers Gregorio Fernandez and Antonion Calzada reported that "there are now 920 souls here, and the number, it is hoped, will be much greater with the favor of God."

The padres made great headway with the Indians and recorded that "paganism here has almost ceased." While no records are available, it is certain that the missionaries proceeded with the erection of a suitable edifice and with other building activities for in his biennial report 1800-1802, Fr. Presidente Lasuen wrote under date of February 21, 1803:

"In the Missions of Purisima Concepcion and San Luis Rey they have in each one completed their church of adobe, sufficiently large and very becoming."

"And that," says Fr. Zephyrin Engelhardt, Mission historian, "is all we find recorded anywhere about the church, the ruins of which are still seen on the southern end of Lompoc at the foot of the mountin, within three blocks of the Catholic church. We may presume that the dedication ceremonies took place on the titular feast, December 8, 1802, and that the Fathers of Santa Barbara Mission, as well as those of San Luis Obispo, participated in the festivities."

Between 1805 and 1808 the Mission fathers and their neophytes constructed an aqueduct, purchased 2,000 additional head of cattle and added to the mission buildings. It is interesting to note from old records that Fr Mariano Payeras, reporting to the Fr. Presidente in January, 1810, wrote that he had completed compilation of " a large catechism with the acts of Faith, Hope and Charity, and another with what is necessary for salvation, a complete confesionario (a booklet explaining all about confession,) and other little things, all in the language of the natives." It must have been some task.

The good Father also reported that the mission had 10,000 sheep and as many cattle. Temporal affairs at the mission were progressing steadily when calamity befell Purisima Concepcion, in December, 1812.

The earthquake of that year which created so much havoc at several of the California missions entirely destroyed the church and vestry, buried the walls the various images and paintings, ruined the greater part of the church furniture and made uninhabitable most of the mission buildings. So great was the damage that the padres petitioned the Fr. Presidente and governor on March 11, 1813, for permission to remove the Indian community to another site and establish a new mission. Governor Arrillaga granted the request and nine months later received a report which said, in part:

"This mission of Purisima founded in the plain south of the Rio Santa Rosa, or Son Bernardino according to the map of Lopez, on the spot called Alsacupi by the natives, and which was desroyed by the dreadful earthquake suffered from December 21 to the last days of the year 1812, was on April 23, 1813, moved to the dale called Los Berros by the Spaniards, but Amm by these natives. The site of the new mission lies five quarter leagues northward of the old mission in the plain north of said river, on the Camino Real from Santa Ines to San Luis Obispo. It is 2,300 varas wide from west to east. While the old place la away from the public highway, the new site is one league nearer to Santa Ines, and one fourth leagues nearer to San Luis Obispo."

Ten days before the catastrophe the mission books had recorded 2,597 baptisms. In 1804 a total of 1,520 Indian neophytes were living happily at the mission.

With supreme courage, Fr. Payeras and Fr. Ripoll set about building a new mission and by the end of 1813 had gathered about them 1,010 Indians. On July 21, 1815, the College of San Fernando de Mexico honored Fr. Payeras by appointing him Presidente of the California Missions.

During 1818 the temporary church collapsed, but another church was erected on the same site. This edifice intended to be temporary, seems to have continued to be the permanent house of worship as records fail to show that it was replaced.

Worn out by his labors, Fr. Payeras died at his mission on April 28, 1823. Purisima Concepcion gradually was being impoverished by the excessive demands of the California military government that it contribute heavily to the support of the soldiers and their families. Money that the padres wished to devote to their new mission had to go to the army together with food and clothing.

It was this oppression by the military that brought about the uprising of Purisima Indians on February 21, 1824, a revolt that spread to Santa Ines and Santa Barbara, as we have seen in the chapters on those two missions. A number of Indians were killed and seven were executed for their part in the affair, all of them young men. The older natives did not take part in the rebellion.

The Buckeye Mining Syndicate is developing the Wideawake mercury property and installing a twenty-five ton furnace, twenty miles from Williams in Colusa county. L. R. Robins is manager.

Two large poles have been installed on each side of the Chiem lot at the Plaza leaving space for two driveways one on each side of the new service station which is under construction.

Personal

Mrs. Herman Katzer and son of Beiber paid a surprise visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver in this city in the last few days returning home Wednesday.

H. D. Draper, agent for mining machinery, has placed rods and bits for a test with the Plumbago mine at Alleghany and bits with the Idaho Maryland mine northeast of Grass Valley.

John Darke is putting up an awning in front of the Keystone Meat Market on Commercial street taking the place of the porch which had been badly damaged several times by automobiles striking the posts. He has just completed laying about 300 yards of new carpet in the Elks hall and stairway in Grass Valley for the firm of Jensen and Thomas.

The Nevada City Grill on Commercial street has a new awning doing away with the old porch of former days.

Mr. Frank Lesh, U. S. Navy, and sister, Miss Mary Lesh, left Wednesday for San Diego. They came to Nevada City to attend the recent wedding of their sister, Mrs. Charles Cottrell and Mr. Cottrell, and visit their mother, Mrs. Steve Lako.

Mrs. Annie Bansmer, Mrs. George Baker and Mrs. Ed Conley visited in Portola, and Reno, Nevada, early this week.

Messrs Norval Hazen and Mickey Murray of Grass Valley accompanied by Jim Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Conley of Nevada City spent two days in Carson City, and Reno, Nevada, in the last few days. Messrs. Hazen, Murray and Baldwin visited with a classmate from the school of mines, in Carson City.

Mrs. W. C. Fouyer and son, Ainsley, returned Sunday from a two weeks vacation in Oakland with relatives.

Mr. Charles Dow of New York is a Nevada City visitor this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ivan Dow of Nevada City.

It is reported Mr. Bob Lobdell, local business man, has gone to Michigan to visit a brother who is quite ill.

Mr. L. B. Davis has practically completed his new auto court on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway northeast of Nevada City's limits. The cottages have just received a coat of paint.

Mrs. R. J. Tremaine and daughter, Miss Esther Tremaine, returned home Tuesday from a vacation spent at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Reuben Richerson, of Nevada City charged with disturbing the peace, was brought before Judge W. L. Mobley yesterday and fined $20, and given a 90 day jail sentence. The jail sentence was suspended during good behavior.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mohr returned Wednesday evening from Berkeley. They went down with their daughter, Miss Marian Mohr, who entered University of California as a freshman. Miss Mohr graduated from the Nevada City high school last year with very high honors.

MINING NEWS

MISTLETOE MINE

Mr. L. E. Roberts, understood to be interested in oil wells, is developing the Mistletoe property west of Grass Valley in the Rough and Ready district. It is stated drifting is progressing at a good rate and rock will be treated at the Idaho-Maryland custom mill as soon as enough ore has been mined.

Ore from the Mistletoe mine started by truck to the Idaho-Maryland mill this week keeping ten stamps operating steadily.

NEW GROUND BEING DEVELOPED

Mrs. W. Watson, trained nurse and former resident of Grass Valley, who resides in Sacramento has given a lease on her claim near the Excelsior dam in Deer Creek east of the new home of Mr. D. C. Billick to Mr. Long and three partners. The men have removed the surface earth and are sinking a 30 foot shaft to determine gold values in the ledge. A pump is unwatering the shaft. The men are quite encouraged with the looks of the property.

Starting two months ago 20 tons of ore per day have been trucked to the Idaho-Maryland custom mill for reduction from the Ragon mine on Cement Hill northwest of Nevada City. Superintendent O. McCraney states development and mining continues on the No. Two level with 22 men employed.

BRUSH FIRES DO MUCH DAMAGE

Flames from a burning Grass Valley house spread to the woods east of Grass Valley and into the edge of the Idaho-Maryland mine holdings near the tailings pond Tuesday. State Ranger Sharp, a surface crew from the mine, and firemen from Grass Valley united in extinguishing the blaze in a short time.

A part of State Ranger W. F. Sharp's crew returned Tuesday evening from the fire at Oregon House in Yuba county that has practically been brought under control after burning over 10,000 acres. The fire truck and several men are still on the fire lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sauvee of this city motored to Sierra City Wednesday to spend the day picking wild plums.

BRUSH CREEK MINE

F. F. Cassidy of the Alpha Hardware company, states the new interests reopening the Brush Creek mine are preparing to reopen the old Anti-Rip tunnel and several men are cutting trails about the property. It lies on the famous Alleghany slate and serpentine contact that has turned out millions of dollars in past years. It is located eight miles southeast of Downieville. Mr. Harry Lage is foreman and A. C. Kingsbury is in charge. Several years ago the property was financed and operated by Santa Rosa business men and financiers with Ben Ballard in charge of the work.

ORO FINE PROPERTY

Ten men are employed under Superintendent Kemp vanEe in cleaning out the 800 foot shaft at the Oro Fino mine south of Grass Valley. Good progress is being made and it will not be long before an examination of ore bodies can be carried out.

Any person desiring to appear for or against any of the allotments set out in said budget, is invited to attend said meeting of the board and discuss the same before final approval of said budget which must be on or before August 31st, 1936.

R. N. McCORMACK,
County Auditor.

NEVADA COUNTY EXHIBIT AT FAIR IN PREPARATION

Mr. William H. Griffith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in Nevada City, states this week that he has started arrangements for the exhibits at the State Fair in Sacramento early in September. He said plans are for an exceptionally good mineral exhibit. Nevada county always send an attractive exhibit of ore and at times has sent some very fine displays of fruit and nuts grown mostly in the southern and western parts of the county.

RISING SUN PROPERTY

Rapid progress is being made in reopening the Rising Sun property located south of the Idaho-Maryland mines. The old workings have been cut into and the old shaft is cleaned almost to the water level between the 500 and 600 foot levels. It is expected the water will be reached by the end of this week. Thomas Coan and E. C. Uren, both Nevada City men, are superintendent and engineer respectively.

PILGRIMAGE TO SERVICE SUNDAY AT LAKE TAHOE

Members of Trinity Episcopal and Emmanuel churches and their friends will next Sunday make their annual pilgrimage to the open air church at Lake Tahoe where Bishop Noel Porter will preach. Last year fifty five persons attended the beautiful service.

Those who have accomodations in their cars for one or more persons, and those who are without transportation are asked to let the Rev. Charles F. Washburn know about it, so that he may arrange transportation for all desiring to go.

The music for this service will be provided by the combined choirs of the two churches. Following the serevice there will be a picnic lunch each visitor being requested to bring his or her own food for this occasion. Following the picnic the members and friends will gather in the garden of Bishop and Mrs. Porter's summer cottage on the lake, meet the Bishop and his family and partake of light refreshments.

MABEN HILL MINE

Two men are employed at the Maben Hill mine south of Grass Valley cross cutting in the shaft to contact the ledge. A fine grade of ore is being mined.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. AUGUST 21, 1936. No. 39.

Nevada City is taking on a more metropolitan aspect. We notice that Bob Steger is removing the wooden awnings on Commercial street from the front of the Keystone Market and adjoining buildings.

We have some colors of paint in lines that we have discontinued and are closing these out at reduced prices. Ask about these bargains if you need paint. You may save some money.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Billick at the end of Grove street has been very nearly completed by Mr. Johns. This log home with its interior of grooved redwood and pine boards, in a setting of pine trees, makes an ideal living place.

Good sugar pine shakes are one of the items stocked by us. Made of straight grain mature sugar pine these shakes will give service for many years when properly applied.

Contractor Ralph Cochrane has commenced work on the Dr. Landis Clinic addition on the NID building on South Auburn street in Grass Valley. This modern addition will fill a long felt want for facilities in this community.

Lindgren & Swinerton's gang under the supervision of Mr. Paul Young are certainly tearing things up at the court house. Looks as though we are going to have a practically new building there by the holidays.

Mrs. Gadder: "When I go to the seashore this summer I will dream of you every night."

Gadder: "Don't you think it would be cheaper for you to stay home and dream about the seashore?"

"I Guess That'll Do," Doesn't Go In Railroading!

The workings of a railroad are as precise in timing and execution as the movement of a jeweled watch. There can't be any guess work nor haphazard methods.

While it maintains the greatest care in equipment upkeep, compliance with schedules, safety in travel, your Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad keeps eagle-eyed vigilance on the safe and accurate delivery of all shipments entrusted to its care. Just notice how carefully the deliverymen on the Narrow Gauge freight trucks in their door-to-door service, check their lists. Two men make check and re-check. And before those valued pieces of merchandise are laden on the big truck they are carefully listed and charted. There is no "I guess that'll do," in railroading—your business carries too much respect for that.

Every protection is given the shipper. Merchandise is insured and every precaution taken to give the customer the best, the fastest and the safest in service.

After six decades of service, your Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad has yet to hear of a customer taking a loss on rail shipment!

LEISURE FOR ALL, URGED BY U. C. SAVANT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—We should have no so-called "leisure class" in the United States but there should be leisure for all.

This is what Dr. Eduard Christian Lindeman, a member of the summer session faculty at the University of California at Los Angeles and director of the section Community Organization for Leisure of the Works Progress Administration, Washington, D. C., told more than 600 social workers and students on the Los Angeles campus recently.

Leisure time should be the direct opposite of laziness, he told the group. It should be a factor that will make life exciting and full of zest. In outlining a plan for community recreation projects he outlined four main points:

"First, we should build upon the recreation program that already exists in our communities," he pointed out. "If there are certain localized forms of sport, dancing or recreation by all means emphasize these.

"Second, keep an ever-sharp lookout for facilities and resources for recreation in a community. A vacant lot may serve as a playground or an abandoned church may serve as a club house and a craft center.

"In the third place. look to local leadership for recreation projects. Find out the persons in the community who have capacities for real leadership and give them something to do. Youth must furnish more and more leadership in the future, so look for possible leadership among the younger people with the idea of developing it. But by all means do not make the mistake of thrusting leadership upon those who are already leaders in several community projects. Develop new leadership.

"A good committee — to advise and counsel—is the fourth essential of a successful community recreation program."

Dr. Lindeman declared that every community, no matter how small, should plan ahead for future growth. The people will feel that their community is progressing and that they are a part of a great nation.

BIG DOUBLE CIRCUS TRAVELS ON THREE RAILROAD TRAINS

The world's newest big show, the Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty Circus which returned from a five year European tour last year will exhibit in Marysville, at Tenth and I Streets, Monday, August 31.

The No. 1 advertising car, the first of three in advance of the Colossus of all amusements, is now in this vicinity. Billposters, bannermen, lithographers, radio men and press agents are heralding the great event, and soon everyone will be planning for a gala visit to the world's largest "big top", the center of the biggest canvas city ever assembled to thrill, entertain and amuse a great and discriminating populace.

Traveling on three trains of double-length steel railroad cars, the giant of super-circuses will bring 1080 people, 812 menagerie animals, 30 elephants and 500 horses.

The Pre-eminent feature is Clyde Beatty's trained wild animal exhibition Beatty is acknowledged to be the greatest wild animal trainer of all time.

There are 400 performers, including the famous Davenport family of riders; the Imperial Harolds aerialists; the Flying Thrillers; Harold Barnes, dancing, tumbling somersaulting acrobat of the tight wire, and 60 internationally celebrated and beloved clowns. The Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty horse fair has become a feature amazing in its appeal throughout the North American continent.

The big holiday will be ushered in with an immense street parade at 11 a. m. Upwards of 500 horses, three score of elaborately carved and gilded allegorical floats and tableau wagons together with many cages and open dens of Clyde Beaaty's animals will be seen in the processional. There will be five herds of elephants and two caravans of camels from the great desert. Five bands and two steam calliopes will furnish music. Doors to the menagerie open at 1 and 7 p. m. The big show will start at 2 and 8 p. m.

ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD REUNION NEXT SUNDAY

All Odd Fellows of Nevada City are cordially urged to attend the big reunion to be held next Sunday at Tamarack Flat about five miles above Cisco. Grass Valley, Colfax, Auburn and Nevada City lodges are participating. There will be a breakfast served from 7 until 9 o'clock in the morning. This will be in charge of a noted cook from the Auburn lodge. Dinner will be served from 1 until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Louie Netz of Nevada City has general charge of arrangements and those desiring transportation should communicate with him.

CAR REPAIR SHOP IS MOVED TO LARGER ROOM

Dick Lane, in charge of the repair department of the Plaza Garage has moved his equipment into the space vacated by Joseph Spence in the same large building at the Plaza. Frank Davies and Sons operate the Plaza Garage.

Joseph Spence has completed a large two bus garage south and just below Town Talk and moved to his new location recently. He continues to operate between Nevada City and Grass Valley on the same schedule as in the past.

Night officer Carroll Towle is ill with a severe attack of flu. While ill Mr. Charles Greer is taking his place as nightwatchman of Nevada City.

GOOD SERVICE COSTS NO MORE

A modern establishment—a trained, intelligent and courteous personnel — distinctive motor equipment and other evidences of progress and prosperity are NOT an indication that funeral service charges will be high. A successful concern can be built only by serving honestly and well, at prices that are fair and reasonable.

AIRMEN OFFERED $70,000 PRIZES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—The 1936 National Air races today were assured the united support of all civic bodies as a result of a formal announcement made jointly by President Oscar Trippet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and President Carl B. Squier of the National Air Races of Los Angeles, Inc. that the Junior Chamber had assumed the official sponsorship of the National Air races.

In addition to leading the various civic groups supporting the races, the Junior Chamber is planning a program of supplementary events and will stage a huge parade from the downtown district to the municipal airport to formally open the meet on Friday, September 4, Sam Gates, chairman of the aviation committee of the chamber disclosed.

Officers of National Air Races, Inc., the operating group are: President, Carl B. Squier, vice president and general manager, Lockheed Aircraft Corporation; vice presidents, Don P. Smith President Airplane Development Corporation (Vultee); J. H. Kindelberger, President North American Aviation, Inc., secretary, W. P. Balderston, president Pacific Scientific Company; Treasurer, Oscar A. Trippet, Attorney and President Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and directors, R. L. McCourt, President, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Daniel C. Hay, Builders Hardware.

World famous speed fliers from this country and abroad will compete for the $70,000 prize money. Features of the four day racing meet will be the Bendix transcontinental speed dash from New York to Los Angeles, September 4, the Thompson trophy, a closed course speed race of international fame, the Ruth Chatterton trophy race for spohtsmen pilots and the Greve and Shell trophy races.

Construction on the 60,000 seat grandstand is well under way, Clifford W. Henderson, managing director announced, two of the seven units having been finished since construction was started a week ago.

STOCKTON HILL MINE

Twelve men are employed at the Stockton Hill mine west of Dew Drop Inn and one shift is developing and mining. A lot of new machinery has been installed in recent weeks. Mr. Marshall Draper is superintendent.

NEVADA COUNTY PEARS GO EAST

The Nevada county fruit growers have signed for the deciduous fruit control under federal supervision and have as a delegate from this area, Mr. Paul McCullough. On the board are five representatives from the shippers and a large number of growers.

At this time pears from all over the state are being shipped to Roseville and going east at the rate of 50 cars per day. Three or four cars of pears containing 720 boxes of 180's are being shipped from Colfax and Grass Valley each day. The pear market is fair, prices ranging from $2.40 to $2.80 per box.

Under the present control system the markets are not over stocked, prices are held up, and only the best grade fruit is being shipped The new law requires 80 per cent of the growers to sign and then the independent growers are also forced to follow marketing regulations.

CAMPTONVILLE

By ACTON M. CLEVELAND

CAMPTONVILLE, Aug. 20.—The Camptonville justice court was in session Saturday morning, the local Masonic hall sufficing as court room. The case of the People vs. Eugene Hays was heard wherein the judgment and commitment as rendered by acting Justice Mulvaney was read, which judgement held the defendant for the 90 day jail term for breaking his probation On motion of District Attorney Rucker, Judge Acton M Cleveland continued the other charges indefinitely.

In the case of the People vs. Ernest Krtechmar and Edgar E. Andrews held for burglary, the preliminary examination was held during which time the testimony of several witnesses were taken including that of Andrew J. Massa, Jacob Dietrich, and Sheriff Chas. J. McCoy. After listening to the evidence, and the motions of District Attorney W. C. Rucker, Judge Acton M. Cleveland bound the two defendants over to the superior court for trial, and set their bail at $1000.

JIM MINE

Mr. Charles Columbo and sons, in charge of the Jim mine, near Graniteville for southern California interests, have sunk about 60 feet in the shaft and the crew is cross cutting to the ledge. A good sized vein of paying ore is being developed and mined. The 12 ton mill is treating ore.

WILLOW VALLEY ROAD IMPROVED

Through a recent allotment of money Supervisor C. S. Arbogast has been able to rock and oil a half mile of road in the Willow Valley district east of Nevada City. The road is being scarified along this section of the road to the school house. The Murchie mine road has just received a coat of oil.

LIVE YANKEE PROPERTY

Ten men are employed at the Live Yankee mine on the Nevada City-Grass Valley highway at Nevada City's southern limits. Two teams are rapidly lowering and grading the little knoll the shaft is on in preparation for a yard and mine surface buildings. A temporary head frame has been put up and the old shaft cleaned out to the 45 foot level. As soon as ore is mined it will be trucked to the Gracey mill on Gold Flat for reduction. The old shaft is filled with old auto parts, trash, rock and earth. A newly constructed tramway carries the muck to a dump in a nearby gulch. Carpenters are cutting timbers to erect surface buildings on the property at once. Mr. H. P. Davis, New York mining engineer, is in charge of operations. The company has a working bond with option to purchase. The Nevada City Gold Mines Company is retaining the old name of Live Yankee. It was last worked in the nineties by Capt. George A. Nihell, who states it is one of Nevada City's most promising properties.

BLUE MONDAY IN THE "GOOD OLD DAYS" (?)

When the old timers start romancing about "way back when," I notice that their wives don't say much. Perhaps they remember old-fashioned wash days which included pumping water, stoking the stove, lifting water to fill wash boilers, steamy kitchens, scrub boards and "sad" irons.

Modern women have every convenience to lighten wash day tasks and we specialize in the newest and most up-to-date appliances to make things easy and pleasant. And they are sold at such easy terms that they pay for themselves in laundry bill savings.

Yours for the good NEW days,

Bill Rumsey
